

Microsoft Windows 11 Deployment Workshop

What is a Microsoft Windows 11 Deployment Workshop?

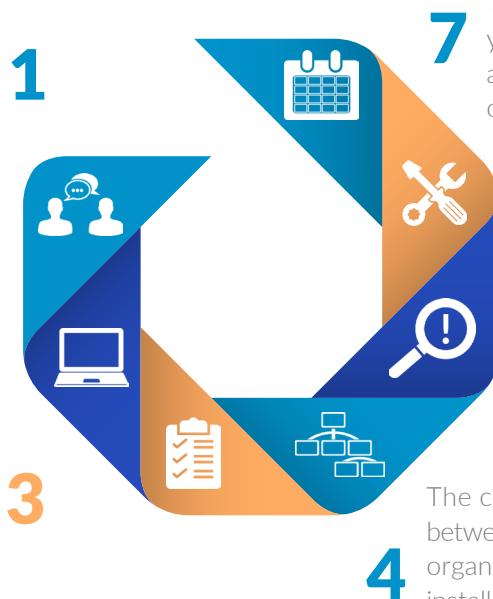

InterVision has developed a Microsoft Windows 11 Deployment Workshop to assist customers in their move to Windows 11. This workshop involves deploying group policies to the workstation to harden Windows 11 workstations and the Edge browser to the Center of Internet Security (CIS) benchmarks to allow customers and their business to test their systems and software early in the upgrade lifecycle.

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS:

1 An InterVision engineer and Cyber Consultant will meet with the customer and explain the process of deploying the group policy or policies and how to restrict them to certain test groups.

2 The customer will provide at minimum one Windows 11 workstation for the process.

3 The group policy will be deployed and verified on the computer, after which the customer can begin their testing. This testing should include IT testing for application installations, anti-virus/anti-malware testing, and other IT-related items.

7 This process should be reviewed each year for changes in the hardening process and the CIS Benchmarks in order to stay on top of emerging and current threats.

6 The InterVision engineer can work with the customer's IT department on whether the hardening should be softened or whether there should be changes in the business processes.

5 If issues are encountered, they should be logged throughout the process.

4 The computer(s) could then be passed between all departments within the customer's organization with the appropriate software installed for each department to test.

WHAT DO YOU GET?

- Group policies to harden the Windows 11 workstation and Edge browser, and up to 20 hours of Engineering assistance to enforce, test, document, and make changes as needed plus 4 hours of Cyber Consulting services.
- A subscription service of eight hours per year for an engineer to work with you to ensure the hardening is kept up to date.
